

The Relocation Bundles

Dear Sir / Madam,

Thank you for your interest in the range of services DMr provide and we look forward to being of service to you. DMr recognises that each and every client has different needs and expectations. With this in mind the custom bundle can be used to match the exact services you require. Despite this, from the research conducted, Dream Move have put some bundle packages together which it believes will meet the majority of client's needs.

Each service within these packages is clearly defined and will assist you in ensuring nothing is overlooked in the relocation process. Attached is the explained services and reasoning for costs to give you a more thorough brief of the work that goes on to ensure the service is as expected.

Approximate time frames for each bundle are also given to allow you adequate time to allocate finding a property. For further information on each element of the available packages please refer to our services page.

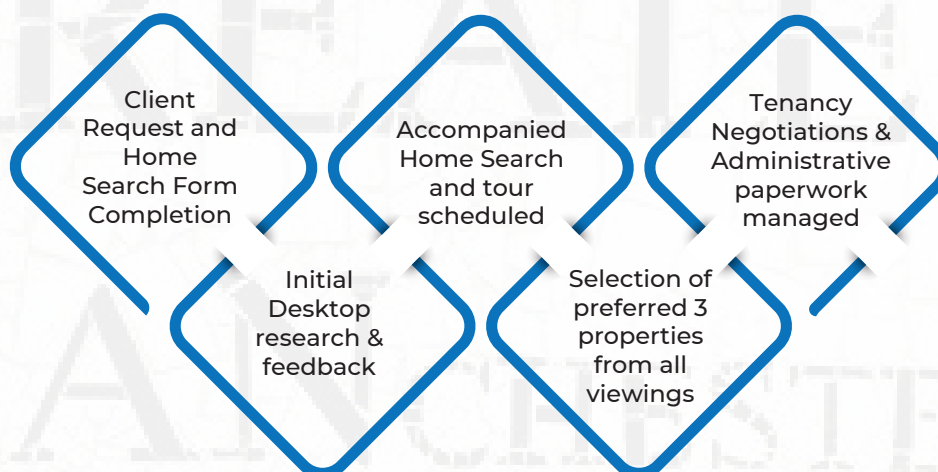

DMr also appreciates the social element of relocating is essential to ensure you are happy not only with your new home but also the surrounding area and the facilities on offer. Taking this into account, we promote events and other opportunities of interest via our social hubs and comprehensive settling in documentation upon securing a property.
